

Literary Analysis

FIRST-PERSON POINT OF VIEW

In a story that is told from the first-person point of view, the narrator is a character in the story. You learn about what happens as the narrator experiences it. However, you can't find out information about the thoughts and feelings of other characters.

Directions: In the first column of the chart, write what you have learned from Rachel's first-person point of view. In the second column, write what you still would like to know.

What I Learned from Rachel	What I Would Like to Know